

MAHASHAKTI SEVA KENDRA

Mahashakti Seva Kendra is an all women's Not for profit working with the survivors of the 1984 Bhopal Gas Tragedy (Also known as the Hiroshima of the chemical industry). Established in 1993, the organization helps with skill development and also aids in marketing the products made by it's members.

When you buy from Mahashakti you are not just buying a product, you are helping to empower the many lives striving to earn a decent livelihood and also lending your support towards a sustainable lifestyle.

The image is a promotional graphic for Mahashakti Seva Kendra. At the top, a dark red banner features the organization's logo (a circular emblem with a tree and a figure) and the text "Mahashakti Seva Kendra" in white. To the right, a gold banner reads "CELEBRATING 25 Years". Below this is a photograph of a large group of women in colorful saris standing in front of a building entrance. A sign above the entrance reads "महाशक्ति सेवा केन्द्र" and "गैस राहत शीट क्र. 17 द्वारका नगर भोपाल." Below the photo is a red banner with the text "Be a part of a woman's journey towards freedom and dignity". At the bottom, four small images show women engaged in various activities: one in a yellow and red sari, one holding a large piece of fabric, one holding a large piece of fabric with a floral pattern, and one in a patterned sari.
